Learning Objectives/Internship Objectives

Anuragk.com is to provide high quality service to all its customers with a professional and supportive manner. This furniture center is committed to being the best in all areas of its business

An objective for this position should emphasize the skills you already possess in the area and your interest in learning more

Some internship is used to allow individuals to perform scientific research while others are specifically designed to allow people to gain first-hand experience working.

Utilizing internships is a great way to build your resume and develop skills that can be emphasized in your resume for future jobs. When you are applying for a Training Internship, make sure to highlight any special skills or talents that can make you stand apart from the rest of the applicants so that you have an improved chance of landing the position.

1. INTRODUCTION

An online furniture shop that allows users to check for various furniture available at the online store and purchase online. The project consists of list of furniture products displayed in various models and designs. The user may browse through these products as per categories. If the user likes a product he may add it to his shopping cart. Once user wishes to checkout he must register on the site first. He can then login using same id password next time.

The Project deals with the development of the computerized system for maintaining the regular records and services that are undertaken in the furniture business. The project has been aimed to design and computerized system that can handle various activities are been carried out at the furniture.

The information details are stored in database manager.

In this project the retail has reached a new level, with the scope of activities widening from traditional transactions and inventory management to strategic alignment of multiple delivery.

- The interviews are aimed at gathering practitioner experiences in a relatively unstructured Way, to identify what individuals believe are the important issues in the adoption of software process automation, and to establish a basis for the more structured questionnaire survey. Some of the interviewees were contacted about a year after the initial interviews.
- The questionnaire survey assesses a wider cross-section of those involved with process automation and includes individuals outside the software community. Because the questionnaire respondents are following a standard format, the data in this phase of the study will be analysed in a more quantitative fashion.
- Finally, the workshop was aimed at identifying success strategies for the introduction of Software automation. The workshop brought together a widely diverse group of individuals with experience in research and development, adoption, management and end use of process automation, and to raise awareness of critical issues across these communities.

CONCLUSION

To conclude, this project is very flexible and user-friendly. This project is developed such that it can be executed in any system. Security is also maintained. This system is protected from any unauthorized person to access the system. The software was tested thus providing maximum load to the server and was found working fast and effective.

The proposed system is developed keeping in mind all the demerits of existing system. It is developed to eliminate all the demerits and adding some extra features. The system has been designed and developed flexibly according to the current requirement of the user. As the information requirements may still increase in the near future. Further such development can be attempted.

Even for owners of small enterprises, for peace of mind in hiring the best candidate for a job, following the steps of the recruitment life cycle is well worth the time and effort and is a proven method of reducing turnovers within a company, saving both time and money in the long run.
